**WALKER OF THE WEEK**

Another retrospective one this week, correcting an oversight on the part of yours truly. In the last issue, Zoe Woods (NSW) was listed as having earned another international qualifying time – this time for the World U20 T&F championships 5000m walk in Eugene USA – alongside Matilda Webb and Sophie Polkinghorne, following her win in the Australian U20 track championship in Canberra. What was not mentioned was that, as a national title winner along with the qualifier, she is an automatic selection for Eugene in August and will be making her second appearance in Aussie colours abroad. Zoe should have part of a four-way shared WOTW award last week, beside Isaac Beacroft, Owen Toyne and Lizzy McMillen who all won national titles that weekend and will be boarding planes in 2026.

Congratulations, Zoe. Better late than never. Best wishes for your upcoming big races.

Honourable mention

- Michelle Bray (ACT) - Currently one of Australia's best-performed Masters track walkers, Michelle (40-44y) posted excellent times over 1500m (7:17) and 5000m (24:16) in successive weeks in ACTRFC competition. She will take some beating at the AMA Nationals in March.

VICTORIA – METRO & REGIONAL

AVSL – News, results

** Metro Zone: Round 8, Saturday 31 January – Yarra Valley Aths Centre, Mt Evelyn

It's not often these days that mother-of-3 Natalie Laurie gets to take line honours, so Saturday's win was a welcome reprise of her glory days of junior competition. Meanwhile, Andrew Duncan's result was within 4 secs of a PB.

Pl	Name	Club	Age	Time	Points

Conditions at Yarra Valley were warmer than they looked, with most times affected accordingly. In the 3000m Mya McClure led all the way for a clear win over Maddison Nash, who hadn't raced AVSL since 2023 and relished her return, keeping Mya in her sights for a 48sec PB.

AROUND THE COUNTRY

Great news for Isaac Beacroft, his family, coach (who is also family), clubmates and training partners, as well as the NSW and Australian race walking communities.

Ratified: world records for Fisher, Koech and Beacroft

(reprinted from World Athletics press releases – 3 February)

In good company: Beacroft flanked by fellow world record breakers Fisher and Koech

(Photos: Citius Mag; ANSW Facebook; My BEST runs)

The world 5000m short track record of 12:44.09 set by USA's Grant Fisher in Boston on 14 February 2025 has been ratified by World Athletics.

Two world U20 records – the 1500m mark by Kenya's Phanuel Koech in Paris in June and the 10,000m race walk performance by Australia's Isaac Beacroft in Sydney in December – have also been ratified.

The world 5000m short track record at the BU David Hemery Valentine International came less than a week after Fisher broke the world 3000m short track record in New York. After passing 3000m in 7:39.16 – a comfortable 16 seconds outside the world record mark of 7:22.91 he clocked six days earlier – the double Olympic bronze medallist continued to run sub-31-second laps.

Fisher covered the final 400m in 59.36 seconds and reached the finish line in 12:44.09, taking five seconds off the previous world short track record of 12:49.60 set by Ethiopia's Kenenisa Bekele in Birmingham on 20 February 2004.

"12:44.09 for the indoor 5000m world record!" Fisher wrote on social media at the time. "Two world records in six days to cap off one of the craziest weeks of my life. Time for some rest."

Koech achieved his world U20 1500m record at the Meeting de Paris on 20 June.

Finishing second behind winner Azeddine Habz during the Wanda Diamond League meeting, the then 18-year-old Koech clocked 3:27.72 to improve the world U20 record of 3:28.81 that had been set by his Kenyan compatriot Ronald Kwemoi in Monaco on 18 July 2014. The performance places Koech ninth on the world all-time list.

Beacroft set his world U20 10,000m race walk record at the NSW 10,000m Walk Championships in Sydney on 11 December. The 18-year-old, who won the U20 title at the World Race Walking Team Championships in Antalya in 2024, clocked 38:02.68 to break the record of 38:46.4 that had been set by Russia's Viktor Burayev in Moscow on 20 May 2000.
