CLUB NEWS and RESULTS

** FAREWELL, TED! ****

It was standing room only in the chapel at Nelson Bros, Williamstown, for the celebration of the life of Ted Allsopp - one of Australian race walking's pioneer elite heel 'n' toe men. At 97, Ted had outlived most of his contemporaries, but that group (drawn from many walks of life) was still well represented. The coffin was draped with an Olympic flag. Bob Gardiner, Tim Erickson, Ross Haywood, Norm Marr, Duncan Knox and myself attended for the Club.

The celebrant, Ursula, outlined the key moments of Ted's long life – his birth in 1926 in remote Edenhope on the SA border, his first encounter with wife Ann, the quest for work which brought him to Melbourne and Williamstown, his career as a saw doctor in the naval dockyards, the family he and Ann produced, his lifelong love of the Footscray Bulldogs and joining Williamstown Harriers. And, of course, the life as a painter he threw himself into in later years.

Tim Erickson spoke next, detailing Ted's walking career and achievements – his two Olympic vests that might well have been six, the 2 Hour world record, and the dozens of Victorian and national medals and titles – from 1946 until his retirement in 1972.

Members of the family took their turn at lauding the loving, resourceful and at times wickedly funny father and grandfather they had adored. Notable among these was Ted's granddaughter Kristen, whose stream of anecdotes was punctuated fondly at various points with 'That was my grandad ...' Nothing would have illustrated better his rascally humour than the day Krystal introduced her new boyfriend and now husband, Darren, to whom Ted thrust out his hand and said 'G'day, Daryl!'

I never knew Ted well. I was a callow junior and he was up there with the other gods. I saw him race regularly (usually from behind, more than once in most races). He'd attend social functions and presentations, but post-race he wasn't one for hanging around; he'd pull on his old anonymous green tracksuit, leap onto his motor bike or scooter and zoom off to whatever life had in store for the rest of the day. For all that, however, he was always approachable, helpful if he could be, and keen to hear of how one's own walking was progressing. Ted, like his friend and fellow Olympian Bob Gardiner, was a key component of the VAWC's identity and power as a club, an invaluable model to us young fellas starting out. I'm glad to have seen what I did of him ... in his latter racing years yet still at the top of his form.

' Dream big ... and never give up.'

Ted Allsopp

(ERRATUM: In the last issue, Ted's name was given as 'Edward John'. In fact it was 'Edward James'. Well, Ted, given the misfortune of poor Darren I'd say the score is 1-1.)

VICTORIA - METRO & REGIONAL

AV Country Track & Field C'ships, 26-28 January - Ballarat

A small group of keen VRWC members ventured to Llanberris stadium to augment the various Country championship fields, competing by invitation. The country regions face numerous challenges in generating numbers for their walks events, and this melding of rural and metropolitan entrants at least affords attendees at the local venues a better opportunity to observe the sport and provides country walkers with a more satisfying level of competition.

The best showing of the championships came from local boy Fraser Saunders (BYC) whose 5000m win in 20:35.85 smashed his PB by a whopping 1:14. While his Perisher training mates slugged it out in the Supernova in Canberra, Fraser turned on a clinic that, it's hoped, was entertaining and inspiring to those who saw it.

Char Hay (MUU) and Arnika Nelson (WYN) had the best duel of the meet with only 10secs separating them at the finish in the Open 5000m. In the 1500m arena, Tate McQueen and Heath Tatlock both scored PBs with 7:45.13 and 9:32.68.

AROUND THE COUNTRY

** WALKER OF THE WEEK ****

One might have thought it'd be easy this week: simply look at the Supernova 10,000m results sheet and take your pick. Not so. With such a cornucopia of fine results to choose from, identifying one WOTW was impossible. In the end, it boiled down to the two winners, Jemima Montag and Evan Dunfee, and 'walker'-up in the Men's race, Kyle Swan ... Jemima and Evan, not so much for winning (which surprised no-one), but for their total domination of their rivals and the ruthless execution of their race plans.

Yes, Evan is not an Australian (at least Kiwi Quentin Rew, another WOTW, was a sometime VRWC member), but he may as well be. He certainly expresses his summer allegiance to the Land Down Under. (January winters in Richmond, BC, must be pretty unappealing.) Evan's display on Sunday was almost frightening in its clinical savagery. Nestled alongside Kyle Swan and Rhyddian Cowley who led in turns for 6km, Dunfee bided his time. When he struck, the blow was lethal. His long surge to victory echoed Birmingham 2022 and gained him a new Canadian record.

Jemima's strike was no less deadly. Perhaps atypically, she waited until 2000m out before surging. Once she did, however, the outcome was never in doubt. Leaving a field that contained Olympic gold and silver medallists Liu Hong and Sandra Arenas in her wake, Montag powered away as if from a club pack for a commanding win. Bring on Adelaide.

Kyle Swan has made a rep for himself as an attacking front walker, an approach that has served him well and brought impressive results. It has also made him a target for rivals with explosive kicks – like Dunfee. Had Evan not been in Sunday's race Kyle would have left the field in the dust. He gets the third WOTW for his 0:32 improvement which catapulted him into the rarified air of 38:00+ territory. Not too many live there.

Well done, Evan, Jemima and Kyle. We wish you the best of fortune on your Paris journeys.

*Honourable mentions

- All ten Supernova finishers who posted qualifying times for the World U20 10,000m Walk Championships in Lima, Peru. See the ACT report below for details.
- Kate Siviour (VIC) and Joel Byatt (NSW) – both burst through the 50:00 barrier for 10,000m for the first time with massive, multi-minute PB efforts - 48:34.71 and 47:38.88 respectively.
- Fraser Saunder (VIC) – a huge 1:14 PB in clocking 20:35.85 to win the 5000m at the AV Country titles.

Now established as arguably the premier annual meeting of race walking talent in the southern hemisphere, the latest chapter in the Supernova 10,000m Walk saga easily lived up to the standard of its predecessors.

Especially pleasing from an Australian viewpoint is the number of qualifiers for this year World U20 championships in Lima (not counting NSW's Isaac Beacroft who, while unable to finish on this occasion, already has a qualifier):

Men – qualifying time: 43:50.00

Marcus Wakim (V)	41:29.32
Bailey Housden (Q)	41:30.77
Owen Toyne (A)	42:13.86
John Ronan (W)	42:15.14
Riley Coughlan (V)	42:17.05
Will Bottle (T/S)	42:43.34

Women – qualifying time: 50:40.00

Alexandra Griffin (W)	47:12.46
Zoe Woods (N)	48:51.90
Sienna Pitcher (N)	49:17.35
Maddison Nash (V)	50:39.84

It's hard to recall a time when Australia has had this degree of depth in the junior ranks – an enviable situation, thanks largely to top level coaching, regular competitive opportunities at home and the incentives of international representation in two big meets (the World Juniors Athletics and World Walking Teams championships). There is also adequate funding for their development – not to mention the availability of a 3-week altitude training camp at Perisher (NSW) under the auspices of national coach Brent Vallance and his team. Then, it must be said, there's pure luck, with such talented athletes all able to grow and race together within a communicable distance, without debilitating injuries or other intrusive life stresses. Of course, Little Athletics and local club racing is where it all starts. Long may it continue.

AA's Sascha Ryner and Lachlan Moorhouse report:

DUNFEE SHATTERS CANADIAN RECORD, MONTAG OPENS HER OLYMPIC CAMPAIGN IN STYLE AT SUPERNOVA

By Lachlan Moorhouse & Sascha Ryner (athletics.com.au/news ... Sunday 28 January)

Canada's Olympic bronze medallist Evan Dunfee has delivered the performance of his lifetime with a new national record in Canberra, while Australia's global medallist Jemima Montag toppled a world-class field at the Supernova: World Athletics Race Walking Tour Bronze meet this weekend.

Crossing the line in 38:25.42, the 33-year-old shattered his previous national record by more than 10 seconds (38:36.37) as he opened up his Olympic campaign in style.

While Australians Rhyddian Cowley (Brent Vallance) and Kyle Swan (Jared Tallent) set a commanding pace, storming through the halfway mark in 19:30, the Canadian waited patiently to make his move in the last half of the race – a strategy that saw him win by a convincing 20 seconds.

"This was the first big test of the year, and I really think this was my best-executed race ever. The goal was to come out and sit on the leader for the first five kilometres and then kick down," Dunfee said.

"Closing in is something I've been really working on for the 20km, so I wanted to move in late in the race, kick down and get that negative split. In that last couple of kilometres, I realised that if I was able to hold that pace, I could get that record."

Dunfee's new record has him hungrier to extend his Olympic success this year in Paris.

"Last year I opened up 39:46 in Canberra and went on to finish fourth at Worlds, and 80 seconds quicker to start this year – that's got to bode well for the summer and I'm excited to see what we can do in Paris with these old legs."

While Dunfee claimed the top spot, Australia's race-walking talent made waves over 25 laps. Swan and Cowley showcased their determination and skill, securing second and third place, respectively, both achieving new lifetime best times, thanks to their work setting the pace over the first five kilometres.

Swan's 38:46.99 saw the Tokyo Olympian shave more than 30 seconds off his previous best, while two-time Olympian Cowley continued his progression with a 19-second best as he crossed the line in 38:55.20.

"It was awesome to have those guys and walk 19 and a half minutes through five kilometres. There aren't many races in the world you can get a pack that can do that and we all benefited today. They did a fantastic job with the pace and it was terrific to see them both achieve PBs," Dunfee said of his competitors.

Australia's junior talent shone brightly throughout the race, with seven burgeoning race walkers dipping below the qualifying standard for the World Under 20 Championships in Lima, Peru this August. Australian representative Marcus Wakim (41:29.32) was the fastest of the juniors, placing ninth overall, as Bailey Housden (41:30.77) continued his rise to stardom with a new Australian Under 18 national record, while Owen Toyne (42:13.86), John Ronan (42:15.14), Riley Coughlan (42:17.05), Will Bottle (42:43.34) and Dylan Richardson (43:14.18) displayed their talents as they launch their bids for team selection.

Day One of the Supernova belonged to global medallist Jemima Montag (Brent Vallance) who delivered a warning to the world's best race walkers when opening her Paris campaign as she dismantled one of the best fields ever assembled on Australian soil.

Stopping the clock in 43:14.78 at the meet on Saturday, Montag clinched the honours in style ahead of Olympic silver medallist Lorena Arenas (Colombia, 43:27.48), Clemence Beretta (France, 43:35.32), Hong Liu (PR China, 44:05.50) and Antigoni Ntrismpioti (Greece, 44:39.83).

Former 20km world record holder Liu set the early pace when clearing out with Montag and Arenas, while Beretta made a bold bid mid-race move to join the leaders, but it was the Australian who delivered a dazzling final five laps to stake her claim ahead off the 2024 Chemist Warehouse Australian 20km Race Walking Championships in Adelaide on February 11.

Olympian Rebecca Henderson (Simon Baker, 45:19.19) and World Championships representatives Allanah Pitcher (Frank Overton, 45:30.54) and Olivia Sandery (Jared Tallent, 46:17.39) were the next three athletes across the finish line of the star-studded affair.

Australia's race walkers will now prepare for the Oceania and Australian 20km Race Walking Championships on February 11, as they look ahead to the Paris Olympics this July.

...	Alex Bradley	06	QLD	DNF
...	Tristan Camilleri	01	SA	DNF
...	Isaac Beacroft	07	NSW	DNF

A gathering of this calibre was sure to yield a bounty of personal best performances, particularly amongst the younger competitors. And so it proved. None of the PBs was insignificant, and some were extraordinary.

*PBs in order of margin:

Kate	4:20	Sam	1:23	Kyle	0:32
Joel	3:14	Bridget	1:18	Marcus	0:32
Jessey	2:55	Corey	1:08	Laelia	0:31
Chelsea	2:35	Tim	0:57	Bailey	0:27
Maddison	1:50	Zoe	0:56	Will	0:26
Hannah B	1:41	John	0:53	Rhydian	0:19
Sienna	1:41	Carl	0:48	Allanah	0:13
Alexandra	1:32	Owen	0:43
Riley	1:31	Mitchell	0:37

** Evan broke his own Canadian record so obviously a PB, we think by a margin of 0:11 (his previous Commonwealth and Canadian mark being 38:36.37, set in Birmingham in 2022). Clemence's attacking walking appears to have earned her a PB by a sizeable margin. Priyanka and Austeja were also successful in cutting previous bests.

Athletics Australia did not live stream the Supernova races this year, so most will not have seen the coverage if they didn't know the source. Athletics ACT, now branded as Capital Athletics, provided the live stream coverage as part of their annual

T&F championships. Their replay files are available at <https://streamer.com.au/league/capitalathletics> (Women - Day 2, Men - Day 3). Excellent picture quality, with the unfolding drama of both races well displayed.
